FRANCOIS MORRISON NAMED CONCORDIA SKI COACH

Montreal - Concordia University has named Francois Morrison coach of the Varsity Alpine Ski Team.

Morrison, a graduate of both McGill and Concordia, brings seven years of coaching experience with him to Concordia. From 1979 to 1983 he was at the helm of the College Jean de Breboeuf ski team. The team won four consecutive titles under his direction.

Morris also spent five years developing, recruiting and coaching with the Laurentian Zone Club. During the 1983-84 season Morrison coached the Université de Montreal team which won the women's Quebec University Athletic Association Championship. The men placed third.

"He has a good record. He should provide the technical expertise to make Concordia a top contender" says George Short, Assistant Athletic Director at Concordia.
